

ABOUT

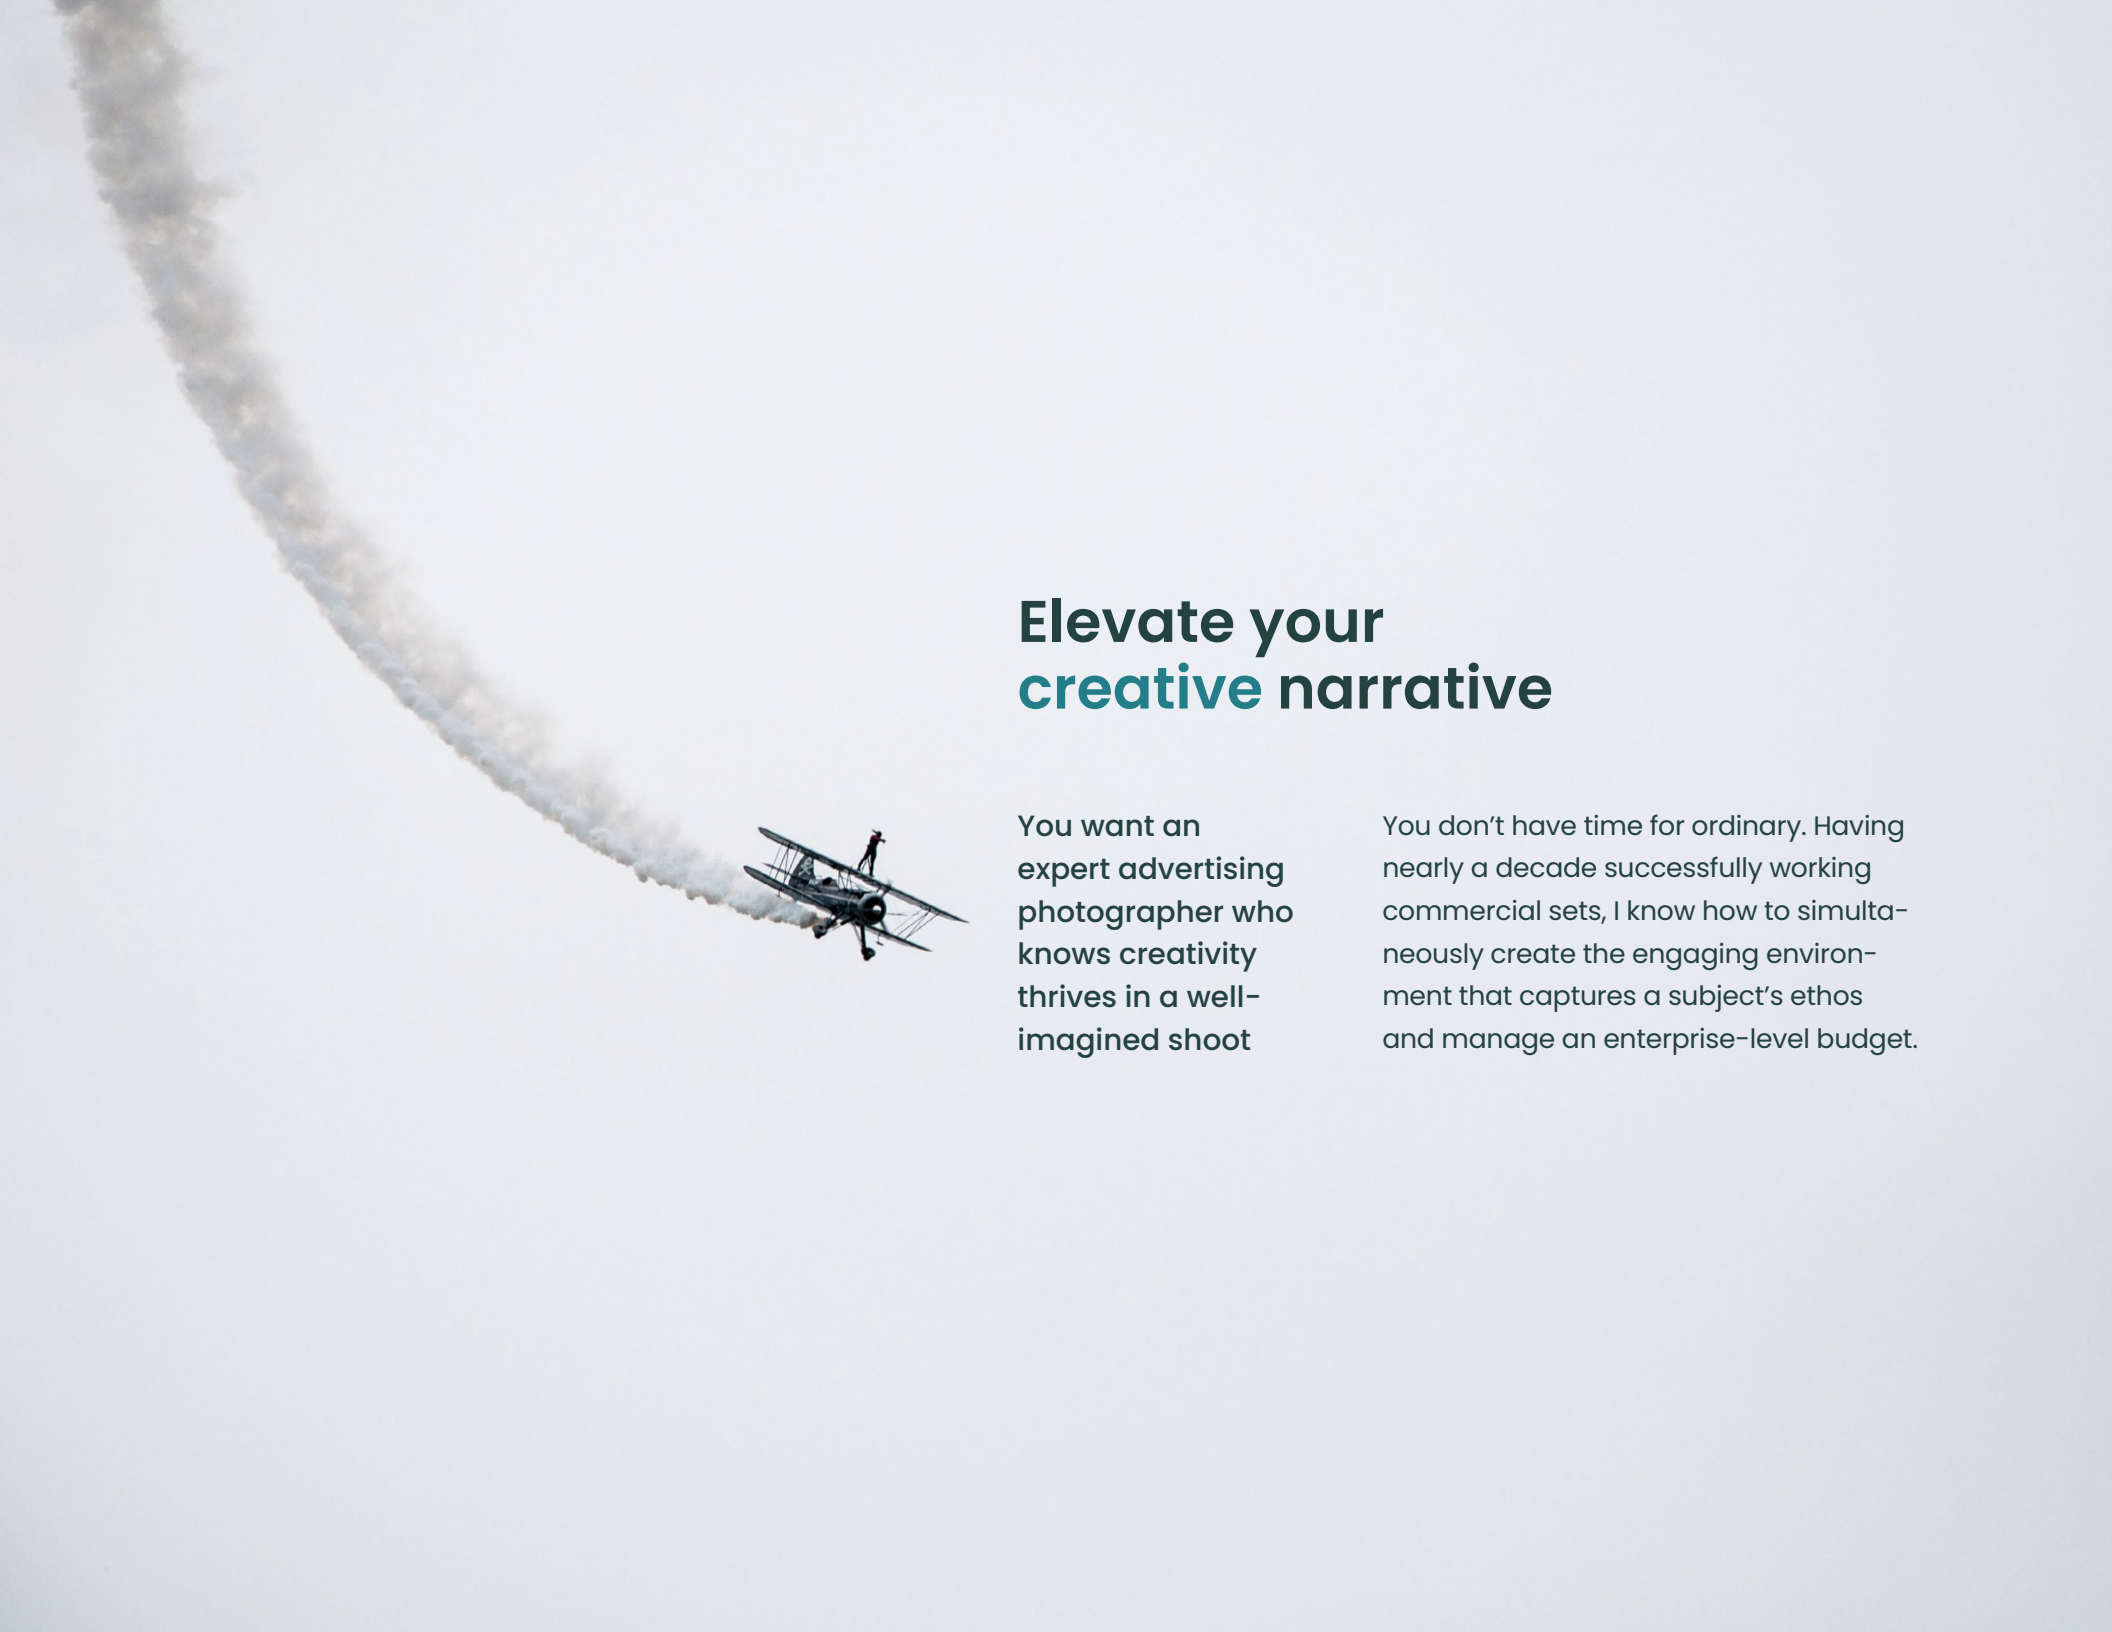

Hannah Dunsirn

I became an advertising photographer to bring an elevated narrative to the photography industry. After nearly a decade working my way up on commercial sets, I've learned the best shoots are ones where client and creative values run parallel.

Elevate your creative narrative

You want an expert advertising photographer who knows creativity thrives in a well-imagined shoot

You don't have time for ordinary. Having nearly a decade successfully working commercial sets, I know how to simultaneously create the engaging environment that captures a subject's ethos and manage an enterprise-level budget.

Images that inspire action

The most fulfilling part of my work: Watching your eyes light up when you see your final proofs. Working with agencies, creative directors, producers and media buyers across the United States, the creative team and I create assets that stir emotion.

Children's Portrait

When you want to capture children, in all their wonder, up close, and tie it to your brand narrative... call me.

Corporate

Your brand is unique, and so is your team. Highlight what makes your organization strong with a corporate photoshoot.

Create curiously

Appeal to their inner adventurer with photography that prompts their curiosity.
